The Fourth

The Orleans County Fair Association wants to make you a part of the fun. The fair is now open and all that they need is that you do it up your car or truck and get in line July 4th, at Barton. If you are fortunate enough to have the best looking car or truck your share of the money will be $75, and if you are unable to obtain this amount, they will give you $50 as a second award and $25 for the third prize. You have often heard the boys boasting what they can do in the line of athletics. Sometimes you believe them and again you do not, but they are going to show you at Barton on July 4th, just what they can do. Entries are already coming in and it looks like a big program of sports.

As for fireworks, you will be given the treat of your lives as the Fair Association have made arrangements for the biggest display ever shown in northern Vermont. Just to give you a faint idea of what the program contains read the following: "A blending of the most beautiful colors known to the fireworks art will be accompanied by the discharge of aerial maroons which are sent into the heavens in rapid succession, making a dazzling effect. The whole air vibrates, the heavens are alight, the earth trembles with fire and noise. For five minutes all is wild and uncanny. It is a sight of exceptional beauty and unexcelled in splendor. No battle scene could be more realistic."

Remember that the place is Barton and the date is July 4th at Roaring Brook Park.

MUNICIPAL COURT

Judge W. M. Wright had a rather quiet day at Monday's session of Municipal court the three principal offenders were men caught fishing with out a license. County Game Warden, Charles Atkins of Orleans lodged the complaint that cost W. B. Louke and Mark Glover, both residents of Newport town $25 and costs amounting to $35.35 each. Atkins found the men fishing on Black river Friday without the required license. The men claimed they were fishing for perch and failed to find the town clerk to get their license at Coventry on their way to the river, although he kindly went their bail for appearance in court Monday. They were represented by E. J. Smith. Mr. Glover gave his age as 79 years and Mr. Louke 48.

Another offender of the Fish and Game laws was Israel League of Newport who was found fishing on Black river Sunday by officer Atkins, and he also failed to provide himself with the proper license. His fine was $25 with additional costs of $12.85.

John Salmon who was brought from Groveton, N. H., by Sheriff E. J. Hill charged of failing to live up to the requirements of the probation laws in supporting his family will await the arrival of instructions from W. H. Jeffery of Montpelier before his case is disposed of.

The case of State versus Dr. E. M. Nichols of Barton is set for trial Thursday and will be brought before a jury at Barton. One of the most important and much talked of state cases will be heard Monday, June 26, which is the case of Abraham Cohen charged of obtaining money under false pretense. This case is known as the 50 cents furniture club.

ized roofing has been laid and the cupola on the barn has been rebuilt.

Rev. and Mrs. M. A. Turner attended the commencement exercises at Montpelier seminary, their Alma Mater, and the former now a trustee.

G. R. Keonig of New York, treasurer of the Wessel, Nickel & Gross Co., is in town on business. The company's box shop is now in operation.

Mrs. George E. King is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. M. M. Byington, at Charlotte and Miss Marjorie King at U. V. M. in Burlington.

H. B. Stewart, Charles Hunt and Fred Pierce of Stantstead, also Asa Welcomb and Ed. Reece of Newport were recent visitors at the Roaring Brook stables.

Miss Harriet Austin has closed the Sunshine sanitarium and gone to the Northwest, via Niagara, to visit her brother, Clarence, and sister, Mrs. L. T. Fayer.

Miss Abbie May has purchased for other parties the Geo. Buswell property in Crystal Lake Park of Mrs. Woodard of Hartland. Possession given at once.

Mrs. Gates, owner of the Star restaurant, is making several changes to better serve her patrons, by converting the north room in the block into a dining room.

The power from the electric light station was off Monday forenoon for some time caused by a tree falling at Charleston and doing much damage to the wires. No other difficulties were experienced on the lines as a result of the gale.

The people of Willoughby showed what a small community can do when they met at the schoolhouse for a neighborhood picnic Thursday, June 8. The men with teams graded the school yard and in other ways added to the improvement of the school grounds.

C. A. Kelton, who is with the Corbin, Frye & Palmer Undertakers, at Burlington, passed through here yesterday with their convertible ambulance or 10-passenger auto truck. This car is very elaborately finished and opens on the side with folding seats or bed.

Bids may be made for land and building together or separately. The trustees reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

F. W. Cutting, C. A. Barrows, R. M. Gilmore, Village trustees.

The W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. Chas. Cutler on Tuesday afternoon. This being the Flower Mission meeting, all were expected to respond to the appropriate quotations. The program follows: "The Story of Jennie Cassidy," Mrs. Gilpin, read by Mrs. Winslow; reading, Mrs. Batchelder; reading, Mrs. Pearson, read by Mrs. Hutchinson; duet, Mrs. Batchelder, Mrs. Hutchinson; reading, Mrs. Henry Cutler; solo, Mrs. Hutchinson. A social hour followed and a picnic supper was enjoyed by all present. Many flowers and delicacies were sent out to the sick and shut-ins.

Seasonal Hints for the Poultryman.

The chief essentials to proper development of growing chicks are good coops or houses, cleanliness, proper feed and water, shade and free range.

Watch for mites in the brood coops and other houses, spray thoroughly with kerosene, crude petroleum, or some commercial sprays.

As soon as the breeding season is over and no more hatching eggs are desired, sell, kill or separate all male birds so as to have infertile eggs. These keep better than fertile eggs. Hens without a male will lay just as many eggs.

Clean, disinfect, and store away the incubator.

Give the growing chicks free range on grass land; and allow them free access to a good mash. Provide shade.

Break up broodiness in hens by shutting them in a slat-bottom coop; they will lay the sooner.

Preserve eggs in glass or lime water for home use in fall and winter.

JERSEY MEN MEET

More than 200 Attend Picnic at Niles Farm in Derby.

Fully 200 persons from all parts of the county attended the annual picnic of the Orleans County Jersey cattle club held at the large Jersey farm of F. J. Niles in Derby Tuesday. The day was cold but in spite of this everyone seemed to have a fine time and certainly enjoyed the hospitality of the Niles household, and saw as fine a lot of Jersey stock as is seldom found. More than 80 head of pure-bred Jersey cattle are kept on this model farm, about 50 cows being in milk.

After the dinner, when contents of each basket were enhanced by coffee, cake and ice cream served by the host, the audience was called together by Mr. Niles, who is president, and the Boys' Calf club of West Glover demonstrated judging work. Their work was very interesting and these boys are making a name for themselves under the leadership of B. R. Buchanan. County Club Leader Bacon spoke briefly about the work for boys and girls and a number of head of the Niles stock were lead about for inspection. A heifer given to Paul Rexford by Mr. Niles was also shown. Paul and his sister Gladys, each gave recitations and a large basket made for the occasion and decorated with Jersey banners was drawn into the yard and the speakers called to occupy it.

The principal speaker was Dr. F. A. Rich of U. V. M. who spoke at length on the selection of individuals, of herd breeding problems and also touched on community breeding and abortion. Others who spoke briefly were Guy Tiffany of Berkshire, secretary of the State Jersey club, County Agent Abell, County Secretary Fairbanks and Wallace H. Gilpin. Mr. Niles presided. Mr. Tiffany stated that it was expected the state Jersey association summer meeting would come to Orleans county in August, probably at Barton.

Dr. Niles presided. Mr. Tiffany stated that it was expected the state Jersey association summer meeting would come to Orleans county in August, probably at Barton.

The day had been well and pleasantly spent.

BOVINE TUBERCULOSIS

How the Disease Spreads. (From Farm Bureau News)

Sooner or later the tuberculous cow begins to give off the germs of the disease. The germs escape by the mouth and nose, the bowels, in the milk and in the discharge of from the genital organs. When the germs are being given off in any of these ways, the disease is known as open tuberculosis.

Germs discharged from the mouth and nose are coughed up from the lungs and sprayed over the food in front of the cow or are carried in the air for a time until they fall to the ground. Cows in adjoining stalls may take in these germs in the air they breathe or in the food they eat and so contract the disease.

Germs discharged from the bowels are mixed with the manure, and may infect cattle and hogs that are allowed to pick over the dung heap. The practice of having hogs and cattle together in the same yard is sure to result in the infection of the hogs if any of the cattle are affected. The germs in the manure come from matter that is coughed up and swallowed, and in some cases from tuberculous milk.

Manure containing tubercle germs may easily infect the milk. Particles of dried manure may fall into the milk pail from the side of a dirty cow or be accidentally flicked off from the tail and fall into the milk. Straining the milk afterwards only removes the larger particles. The smaller ones, including the germs, remain in the milk.

When the udder is tuberculous the milk contains the germs in vast numbers. Such milk may look and taste perfectly good, but readily transmits the disease to young animals. It is very dangerous to children. Hogs and calves may readily infect it.

Movies Shown at Farm Bureau Meetings.

Attendance 395 at Five Meetings.

Being favored with the loan of a portable moving picture machine, from the State Agricultural Extension Service and films from the United States Department of Agriculture it was possible during the week of May 29th, to hold Farm Bureau meetings at which "movies" were a part of the program.

The two films shown were "Food for Reflection," presenting a home demonstration agent working on a hot school lunch project and the federal meat inspection film entitled "The Honor of the Little Purple Stamp."

The program also included a S. G. Judd, dairy specialist, and E. M. Gove, representing the Vermont Farm Bureau Federation who told of the accomplishments and activities of the state and national organizations.

Meetings were held at East Charleston, Irasburg, Barton, North Craftsbury and Newport. At Barton and North Craftsbury meetings Dr. A. J. DeFossett from the State Department of Agriculture, Tuberculosis in Vermont," answering many questions for farmers who desired more information on the subject.

Meetings will be held in other sections of the county during the summer, at which moving pictures dealing with Farm Bureau work and the activities of the United States Department of Agriculture will be shown.

Take a Peek Before Answering.

At the time of tests in the schools the small fry were very busy discussing how "awful hard" the questions were and wrinking their brows in anxiety as to whether they'd passed. There is a humorous story told of a teacher who had her first question answered correctly. "How are you so sure?" inquired mother. "Well, there was to name 25 birds and, as the teacher left the bird chart open at that place, it was easy," was the naive reply.—Springfield Union.

Improvement Club Notes.

The Improvement club is beginning its eighth year and quite a husky younger. The benefits of association and cooperation are in evidence all over our community and much has been done and a great deal is at hand to be accomplished as the time and occasion presents itself.

Our phoasant colony is in fine shape with two hatchings of 11 and 12 respectively and more to be heard from soon.

Three shipments of trout have been received this season and placed in nearby waters. There are more to come.

Members should remember that each is a regular member in good standing of the Vermont Fish and Game League and as such are helping in the propagation and distribution of fish and game in Vermont.

Of immediate interest is our 10 page, two color folder, of which a large edition will soon be ready for distribution.

The regular trustees meeting for June will be held on Saturday evening, June 17th, at the club rooms.
